“Explanatory Note to Warrant under paragraph 6 of Schedule 4 to the State Aid (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (“the Regulations”)

This Explanatory Note is provided for information only. It is not a detailed note of the powers under the Regulations which are subject to interpretation by the courts.

Subject matter and powers

Officers of the Competition and Markets Authority (‘the CMA’) [[if the Judge so orders pursuant to paragraph 8(2), insert the following here and elsewhere as indicated] and other persons] have been authorised under Warrant to enter premises identified in the Warrant in connection with an examination of alleged misuse of aid under the Regulations.

The subject matter of this examination is set out in paragraph 2 of the Warrant. The officers [and other persons] will not elaborate on this.

Paragraph 4 of the Warrant sets out the powers of the named officer [footnote] and other officers [and other persons] under paragraph 8 of Schedule 4 to the Regulations for the purposes of the present examination. On entering the premises, in addition to producing evidence of their own identity as required by the Regulations, the named officer will, as a matter of practice, produce evidence of the identity of the other officers [and other persons] when producing the Warrant.

Unless the Court has ordered otherwise, the initial production of the Warrant and entry to the premises must take place between 9.30 a.m. and 5.30 p.m. Monday to Friday and, once officers [and other persons] have entered premises under the authority of the Warrant, they may outside those times and whilst the Warrant remains in force, remain on the premises or re-enter the premises to continue executing the Warrant.

Access to legal advice

You are advised to seek legal advice. If the named officer and other officers consider it reasonable in the circumstances to do so and if they are satisfied that you are complying with, or will comply with, such conditions as they consider it appropriate to impose, the named officer and the other officers will grant a request to allow a reasonable time for your legal adviser to arrive at the premises before the proposed entry continues.

If you decide to seek legal advice you should do so promptly and this must not unduly delay or impede the proposed entry. Any delay must be kept to a strict minimum.

If you have an in-house legal adviser on the premises, or if you have received prior notice of the proposed entry, the named officer and other officers [and other persons] will not wait for your external legal adviser to arrive.

Self-incrimination

The named officer and the other officers have powers, among other matters, to search and take copies of, or extracts from, documents covered by the Warrant, to require you to produce relevant information which is stored in any electronic form and to require you to provide an explanation of any such documents (which the Regulations define as information recorded in any form).

You should note that, any statement made by a person in response to a requirement imposed by the named officer or other officer may only be used in evidence against that person for the prosecution of an offence under the Regulations; or on prosecution for any other offence where –

1. in giving evidence, that person makes a statement inconsistent with it; and
2. evidence relating to it is adduced, or a question relating to it is asked, by them or on their behalf.

Legally privileged information

The powers under paragraph 8 of Schedule 4 to the Regulations to search, take copies etc. (set out in paragraph 4(b) onwards in the Warrant) do not apply in respect of any 'privileged communication'. This is defined in paragraph 17 of Schedule 4 to the Regulations to mean a communication –

1. between a professional legal adviser and the adviser's client, or
2. made in connection with, or in contemplation of, legal proceedings and for the purposes of those proceedings, which would be protected from disclosure in proceedings in the High Court on grounds of legal professional privilege.

For the purposes of paragraph 17 of Schedule 4 to the Regulations, a 'professional legal adviser' includes both an external and an in-house qualified legal adviser.

If you consider that a document or information is privileged, you should provide the named officer or the other officer with material of such a nature as to demonstrate to the officer's satisfaction that the document or information, or parts of it, for which privilege is claimed, fulfil the conditions for it being privileged.

If you fail to do so, you should gather together the items for which privilege is claimed. These items will not be examined or copied unless you reach agreement with the named officer that they may be examined or copied. If no agreement is reached whilst the warrant is being executed, the named officer will request that you make a copy of the items and place this in a sealed envelope or package in the named officer's presence. The named officer will then discuss with you the appropriate arrangements for the safe-keeping of these items pending resolution of the issue of privilege. For example, such arrangements may include a request that your legal adviser should give (or if no legal adviser is present, that you give), a written undertaking that the envelope or package will be retained safely and that its contents will not be concealed, removed, tampered with or destroyed until the issue of privilege is resolved.

Listing of items

Unless it is impracticable in all the circumstances, no item may be removed from the premises by the named officer or other officers until they have prepared a list of all the items to be removed, a copy of the list has been supplied to you, and you have been given a reasonable opportunity to check that the list relates to all the items concerned, and only to those items. This does not entitle you or your legal adviser to insist that the list or its contents should take any particular form.

Confidentiality

You should note that, subject to the safeguards in relation to self-incrimination and legal privilege, you are not entitled to withhold a document or information claiming that it is confidential.

Where it is possible to do so, it is suggested that after the entry to the premise you should identify any part or parts of any information or document copied or taken that you consider to be confidential and provide a written explanation as to why it should be treated as such. For these purposes information is confidential if it is:

1. commercial information the disclosure of which the CMA thinks might significantly harm the legitimate business interests of the undertaking to which it relates;
2. information relating to the private affairs of an individual the disclosure of which the CMA thinks might significantly harm the individual's interests; or
3. information the disclosure of which the CMA thinks is contrary to the public interest.

A document will be treated as confidential to the extent that it contains confidential information.

It is for the CMA to determine whether or not the information is to be disclosed in accordance with Part 9 of the Enterprise Act 2002.

Application to vary or discharge the warrant

You are entitled to apply to the Court to vary or discharge the Warrant. If you intend to make such an application, you must first inform the named officer. An application to stop the Warrant from being executed must be made immediately upon it being served.

The application must be made to the judge who issued the Warrant, or if that judge is not available, to another High Court judge.

If you are making an immediate application to stop the Warrant being executed, the named officer will delay starting or continuing a search of the premises for a reasonable period (not exceeding two hours) while you make your application, provided that you

1. permit the named officer and other officers [and other persons] to enter and remain on the premises;
2. keep the named officer informed of the steps you are taking in relation to the application; and
3. comply with any other conditions that the named officer imposes.

Examples of conditions that the named officer may impose pursuant to (3) above include: that you do not disturb or move any document or information that is the subject of the Warrant; and/or you do not tell anyone other than your legal adviser about the Warrant or the investigation.

Application under section 59 Criminal Justice and Police Act 2001

Your attention is drawn to section 59 of the Criminal Justice and Police Act 2001, which makes provision about applications relating to property seized in the exercise of the powers conferred by (among other provisions) paragraph 8 of Schedule 4 to the Regulations.

An application under section 59—

1. must be made by application notice in accordance with Part 23 of the Civil Procedure Rules; and
2. should be made to a judge of the Chancery Division at the Royal Courts of Justice (if available).

[Footnote: The named officer is the principal officer of the CMA who, together with the other officers [and other persons], is authorised by the Warrant to exercise powers under paragraph 8 of Schedule 4 to the Regulations. The officer's name and the names of the other officers [and other persons] are set out in [Schedule B to the Warrant.]”
