Dear Colleague

EXTENSION OF THE RTA PI SCHEME: PROPOSALS ON FIXED RECOVERABLE COSTS

As you will know, the Government has committed to extending the current Road Traffic Accident (RTA) Personal Injury scheme by April 2013 – vertically, to include claims up to £25,000; and horizontally, to incorporate Employers' Liability (EL) and Public Liability (PL) claims. You will be aware that the Civil Procedure Rule Committee (CPRC) is currently consulting on the draft Protocols which will implement these changes. The Government is also committed to reducing the fixed recoverable costs (FRC) available within the extended RTA scheme. The purpose of this letter is to invite your comments on the proposed levels of FRC that will apply to the extended scheme.

As indicated in the detailed analysis of responses to the call for evidence conducted earlier this year (available at consult.justice.gov.uk/digital-communications/extension-rt-a-scheme), views on the appropriate costs model, and on the level of FRC, for the extended scheme, are wide ranging and contradictory. However, taking into account the evidence which stakeholders have provided, I have decided:

- To retain a flat rate FRC structure for RTA claims, but with a dual tariff for claims up to £10k and for claims from £10-25k;
- To introduce a similar flat rate, dual tariff structure for EL and PL claims, but with different rates from RTA cases to reflect the potentially greater complexity of these types of claims;
- To retain the current FRC for RTA claims at Stage 3 (£250 for a paper hearing; and £500 for an oral hearing), and to apply this same rate for EL/PL claims at Stage 3.

Based on the initial analysis undertaken, including of consultation responses and other available information, I propose that the FRC within the extended scheme should be as set out in Annex A.

With regard to the FRC which will apply to RTA, EL and PL claims which exit the Protocol process, I have decided to introduce a matrix of fixed recoverable costs based on Jackson's Table B but amended both to take account of inflation since the table was first produced (in 2009), and reduced throughout by an amount intended to reflect the forthcoming ban on referral fees. A copy of the proposed table is attached at Annex B.

The proposed FRC will be reviewed in light of further evidence received from stakeholders. In particular, I would be interested for your views and supporting evidence on:

- the proposed rates and the differential above and below £10k;
- the proposed differential between RTA and EL/PL FRC rates;
- the proposed apportionment between Stages 1 and 2 above and below £10k, for both RTA and EL/PL;
- the proposed rate for EL/PL claims at Stage 3; and
- the interface between the proposed FRC arrangements within and outside the Protocols, particularly with regard to incentives for either side to exit.

I am keen to receive views from as broad a spectrum of stakeholders as possible, and to that end I should be grateful if you would forward this request to others you believe would have useful input in this area. You need not repeat any representations you have previously made in response to the call for evidence earlier this year. It may be helpful to mention that the FRC rates which are implemented in April 2013 will be subject to review after a year and further details on the arrangements for this will be published in due course.

I would be grateful if you could send your response and any supporting evidence by 4 January 2013 to:
