Questioning and documents

Questioning will be by a court officer unless a judge agrees there are compelling reasons for questioning to take place before a judge. Normally the court officer will ask the questions set out in Form EX141 and the officer of the company will be told to produce all relevant documents including:

- bank statements
- share certificates
- hire purchase and similar agreements
- court orders on which money is still owed
- any outstanding bills
- bills owed to the company
- 2 years’ accounts
- current management accounts.
