Face It Theory of Change Model

Decrease Youth Violence & Crime

Positive behaviours are successful strategies that are used more often (positive reinforcement)

Fewer exclusions from schools or unemployment
Reduction in contact with authorities

Improved engagement at school or work
Young people engage in less violent behaviours

Improved behavioural characteristics through learning to manage personal violence triggers, understanding of the origins of violence in their lives and a greater awareness of the effects of violence (and crime) on themselves and others.

Reduction in violent behaviours

Increase pro-social skills
Change in attitudes about violence
Increase coping skills

Increase knowledge about violence
Increase empathy
Understand Violence

Participation in the 5 day program through group activities

--- Indicates effects that may occur after the intervention

Developed by Stephanie Kelly, MA Social Research & Evaluation, 2012
Supported by Greater London Authority Project Oracle & London Metropolitan University